

Every dollar makes an impact

Because of the generous support we enjoy from thousands of donors across the state, and in partnership with 31 hospitals and other referral sites, The Red Devils eases the burdens for nearly 800 breast cancer patients each year. For every Adriane, Shydia, and Kim, there are hundreds of other women whose breast cancer journeys are made lighter thanks to The Red Devils and our partners.

I was just talking to my husband about how The Red Devils sent out a cleaning company after my double mastectomy. There was no way I could clean, and David had his hands full with so much. That and the meals were a huge help. Things almost felt normal. The Red Devils was amazing. My house was clean and dinner was on the table. It felt so good. With the Red Devils I never felt like a breast cancer patient. I was a real person, not a statistic. It was like connecting with a new-found girlfriend. - Adriane

When you are a breast cancer patient, going through treatment, there are so many variables that are coming at you, and it's very difficult for you to try to maintain your new normal, because nothing is the same for you. I had to set a precedent every time, with what new normal is. And The Red Devils helped me accomplish that across the board. I just can't express in words how thankful and blessed I really feel to have The Red Devils in my life at this time of adversity. - Shydia

I was diagnosed with breast cancer April 10th, 2017 when I first found out of my diagnosis I was shocked because I was only 30. The treatment affected me majorly on my day to day. Sometimes I couldn't even get out of bed or take my children to school. Just little things you take for granted you can't do anymore. I was just really sick all the time. I didn't have any energy. The Red Devils allowed me to concentrate on the things that matter. They gave me and my family my life back. - Kim
